

Governing and Managing for Human Rights, Quality and Safeguarding

A Capacity Building Program for Disability Service Providers

Purpose at Work, in partnership with National Disability Services, presents Right on Board:

A capacity building program for Boards and Executive Teams of disability service providers on human rights, quality and safeguarding.

Right on Board answers the need as highlighted by the Disability Royal Commission for greater awareness of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, as well as the strengthened governance and management of quality and safeguarding.

Right on Board is a quality, tailored program to reflect your organisation's unique challenges. For disability organisations that provide other services as well, our consultants incorporate relevant material from the Aged Care Quality Standards, the National Standards for Mental Health Services or the Child Safe Standards.

Get Right on Board

Your Board and Executive Team will gain a deeper understanding of:

- ▶ The human rights approach and the legislative context, including key provisions of the UN Convention that affect service design and delivery
- ▶ The key concepts around quality and safeguarding impacting the entire sector, as well as the key challenges for your own organisation
- ▶ The potential areas for strengthening your risk management practice
- ▶ The adequacy of your current governance and management arrangements for human rights, quality and safeguarding
- ▶ The composition and structure of your board regarding quality and safeguarding

As a result, your organisation will have a better understanding of the standards that people using disability services should expect and will be better prepared for responding to the Royal Commission.

The Right on Board program

Purpose at Work offers Right on Board at three levels. Supplementary services are available on request and will be quoted for separately, e.g. developing policies, risk appetite statements, and KPIs; consulting on implementation; or observing a meeting of the Quality and Safeguarding Sub-Committee of the Board.
