ACCESSIBLE EVENTS POLICY

2. Event organisers will assess the need for additional accessibility features to be provided at specific events depending on the type and size of the event and likely participants.
3. Any notice of an event and any registration material will include an access statement on the access features that will be provided and an invitation to participants to identify any other particular access requirements they may have in order to participate in the event.
4. The event organiser will contact any person requesting accessibility features in order to identify specific requirements and ensure that, as far as possible, the request is met.
5. Where an event organiser is of the view that a request cannot be fully met due to unjustifiable hardship the event organiser will discuss the reasons for that view with the NDS Conference and Events Manager.
6. Where an event organiser is of the view that a request cannot be fully met due to unjustifiable hardship the event organiser will contact the person making the request to discuss options for making the event as accessible as possible without causing an unjustifiable hardship.
7. Where an events organiser is of the view that a specific request for particular access features cannot be met, and acceptable alternative approaches cannot be identified, they will inform the person of their rights and provide them with information on accessing independent support, advice and representation.
